SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING

Successful Advertising is telling a truthful story in so simple, so interesting, and so convincing a manner that the reader becomes a buyer, and even then it is not "successful advertising" until the buyer is not only satisfied, but gratified.

Wedding

Richardson-Judd.
Miss Helen E. Judd of South Paris and Lester E. Richardson of Norway were united in marriage November 11, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the home of the bride's parents, on the East Oxford road in South Paris.

Rev. L. S. Staples of Deering Methodist Church officiated, using the double ring service. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Henry Small, as matron of honor and the best man was Rupert Truway, a niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Edward Raymond was ring bearer.

The bride wore maize chiffon georgette and carried roses. Mrs. Small wore a low georgette over white and carried carnations.

A reception for the relatives and a few friends followed the ceremony. Mrs. Richardson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Judd of South Paris. She is a graduate of South Paris High School, class of 1926, and of a beauty culture school in Boston. For some months she has been in charge of the (Gourmet) Art Beauty Parlor in Norway.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Richardson of Norway. He was graduated from Norway High School in 1926 and attended a local school in Stamford, Conn. He is now in the employ of his father at the Richardson market.

The bride and groom were married by the groom's mother. Amid much confetti and good wishes, the couple made their escape to parts unknown. An announcement of the marriage of the bride's sister, Doris, to Henry Small, of Deering, was made at the wedding.

After a short trip, they will make their home in Norway, on Cottage Street, and will be at home after November 18.

Packard-French.
On Thursday evening, Nov. 2, Asa Frankling Packard and Miss Madeline Angeline French were united in marriage at the home of Rev. Marguerite McIntire, who performed the double ring service. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Charles A. Packard, as matron of honor and the best man was Rupert Truway, a niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Edward Raymond was ring bearer.

The bride wore maize chiffon georgette and carried roses. Mrs. Packard wore a low georgette over white and carried carnations.

Merrill-Clough.
A very pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized at the Congregational parsonage Saturday evening, November 12, at seven-thirty when Alfred Merrill and Margaret Clough of Bethel were married. Rev. Raymond Morgan used the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Merrill was attended by her sister, Mrs. Charles A. Packard, as matron of honor and the best man was Rupert Truway, a niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Edward Raymond was ring bearer.

The bride wore maize chiffon georgette and carried roses. Mrs. Merrill wore a low georgette over white and carried carnations.

SAVINGS BANK ONCE ROBBED.
Mrs. Leola Noyes Morrison has just discovered that the Norway Savings Bank was robbed in October, 1927. The bank was then located in the building now occupied by Advertiser as a printing office. Its treasurer was the late Lee Moore. Most of the loot was afterwards returned to the bank, if the written story of Moore's life is true. He says so in his book.

MAROONED IN KETCHUM.
That is what happened to Lowell Barnes and Gram Danahy with their great-grandson, Lowell Jr. They arrived at Ketchum, N. H., on Wednesday, and the flood came the next day. They stayed there eight days waiting for the roads to get mended. No hunting was going on.

Donald B. Partridge was a substitute in a play at Oxford last week. He is in a play at Oxford twice and did fine in the part of a sailor. The flood had marooned him at the house of his father, who is at Arthur Walker. He was unable to get home the part, but was unable to get home from his hunting trip.

Life's Journey Ended

Fred E. Everett.

The Boston Transcript reports the death of Fred Everett, November 11, of Fred E. Everett, who for many years was the real estate business in Boston, where he had offices at 107 Ames Building, and was one of the first tenants in that structure after it was built. Mr. Everett, who was in his sixty-eighth year, was a native of Otisfield, Me., born in 1859, and the son of Thomas Jefferson Everett and Ann Marie Everett. He was a resident of Boston for many years.

Mr. Everett was a member of the Boston City Club, and was a member of the Otisfield, Me., DeCoster of Turner, Me. The funeral was held at the home of the family residence, 35 Francis St., Melrose. The interment was in the Mt. Auburn cemetery.

Howls and Growls

The Wearies are in a peck of trouble. Their taxes have become due and they have no money. And no doubt there are others in the same fix.

Don't feel the getting of the R. D. Pumper. It's not the wrong direction. It isn't it. Better be prepared and happy than burned up and sorry.

J. B. Frost et al are making a side-walk at Norway Lake. It looks as if they were banking up the lake shore front to keep out the water.

The Knightly "Iron Bridge" over Crooked River in Waterford will have to be built over and made wider. Too much traffic for a one way bridge on that road.

The silent policeman on Main St. corner near the Congregational church has been removed. One built by Luck Bros. and peddled at Bennett's shop will take its place.

It looks pretty much as though Bridge-ton and Harrison are to lose their railroad. Don't like the sound of the Protective Committee's report. Hope we are mistaken.

Did you get any of the $26,000.88 that was divided up among the depositors of the Norway Savings Bank? The dividend was made the first of the month. If not, why not?

It makes us feel bad to see that little black bear walking around the narrow confines of the mill race. Lynville. The bear should be let to sleep for the winter at least.

I pine for the days of the Portland Star match. Then a poor laboring man could rest for five seconds from his work without being doctored. He had to burn the bismuth off the match.

If the R. D. Pumper lifts 10,000 gallons of water in a second, how many gallons will it require to lift 600,000 gallons? We'll give it up. I'll bet the Chief Engineer and Assistants know.

S. W. Goodwin: "Well, Mr. Sauborn, you can sleep better tonight, the pumper has gone. We gave a sigh of relief and thought of the happiness of Chief Gies and Frost and others of the Fire Department."

Cal. Coolidge, the president, is quoted as saying after his term expires he is going back to Plymouth, Vt., and whittling on a couple of years. It's possible he may join the Weary Club of Norway. Who knows.

Many a thrifty man says the big item of expense is his taxes. Why shouldn't it be? See what he gets: roads, sidewalks, sewer, street sprinkling, lights and an opportunity to see the Red Pumper in street parade.

Of course we can afford it! The Red Devil Pumper. It costs us less than 60 cents per day and is both helpful and useful. We hope there never will be use for it. But should we need it—no, it's not the boys to handle it, too. Isn't that worth the price?

Why is it and what have we done that we live on the west side of the clock tower can't be used the same as the other dwellers in town? No lamp in the clock tower as yet. Maybe we can induce Frank Hurd to shoot out the other lamps and then all will be used alike.

H. E. Prentiss shows us a nice apple. It came from the Stark Brothers of Mass. and measures 12x11 1/2 inches and of perfect shape. It's called the Golden Delicious. Mr. Prentiss is sure just as good apples can be raised here, if properly cared for. He sells Stark Brothers' nursery stock.

We can't sleep nights! The R. D. Pumper makes such a racket on Bridge St. Bridge, but say, don't the boys enjoy it? They don't like the noise and the old Oxford Bear had tub of 75 years ago wasn't it for a minute. But it did kick up a commotion but not as much as the R. D. P.

F. W. Sauborn says: "Norway's problems are many. Some were enumerated in our last issue. Our greatest one is the making of a big local paper in a small town. If you like the paper, lead it to your neighbor and then invite your friend to become a sustaining member of our family. The Advertiser is an acceptable gift for the absent one. Remember we can deliver by mail for less than you can."

A reminder that this year is nearing the end of the final act is the arrival of the Maine Farmers' Almanac for 1928. It is published by Charles E. Mack & Son of Augusta, with astronomical computations of the latitude and longitude of Augusta, La. 44 degrees, 18' minutes N. and 69 degrees, 45' minutes W. Three eclipses of the sun and two of the moon for the year are invisibly here excepting a total for the moon on Nov. 27. A summary of the game and motor regulations is handy. The directory of fraternal orders, medical associations, churches, and other public utility is especially helpful. Altogether, the Almanac is just the thing for every Maine home and very convenient.

Timely Warning to the Public
The R. D. Pumper must be exercised, at least every other day. The public must become accustomed to it so as to keep from the wheels when it starts on a real business trip.
When that happens and the gong sounds look out, get out, and faint, if you must. By the roadside and not in the street. The public are now being educated to a new and modern thing in fire pumps. It will be taken for granted for charitable purposes in South Paris.

Prudence suggests this as well as a fire escape on Engine House Hall.

KNOW YOUR PAPER

You know a paper by the amount and kind of news it carries. Also you can estimate the value the paper is to the community pretty accurately by the number of different advertisements appearing in it regularly. It isn't the amount of space occupied, it is the number of different ads that appear.

That is the measure of service and shows the strength of the paper in the community. Look over the Advertiser and count the number of ads it contains. There is an average of over two hundred each week for the year.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

Paris Won Game and Series

South Paris High School won the football classic against Norway 27-12, on the Paris grounds, Armistice Day. Bangs, captain of the Paris eleven, made the first touch-down within four minutes after the starting whistle and his team never were headed, although Norway worked strong opposition and some clever plays.

Playing conditions were lousy with the gridiron wet and slippery and rain threatening to fall any minute. The contestants were cramped in heavy sweaters making speed well nigh impossible. Encouragement from several hundred spectators on two sidelines aided both teams in their strenuous battle with a slippery ball and more slippery footing.

For Paris, Capt. Bumpus at quarterback and Edwards at fullback were conspicuous in their punting and line plugging. The entire line-up clocked a very excellent work.

Aldrich, the Norway fullback, with Clark and Ashton, proved shining stars for Norway. They were supported by a large of well coached players.

This concludes a three-game series entering as many years, with Paris coming the game in 1904.

MICAH CHAMPIONS THE OP-PRESSED

LESSON TEXT—Micah, chs. 2, 3 and
6. GOLDEN TEXT—What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do finally justice and to walk humbly and to love me, and with thy God.

PARTIAL TOPIC—What God Requires of US. Do.
 INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
 US—What God Requires of US.
 YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND ADULT TOPIC—
 The Prophetic Interpretation of Religion.

Micah prophesied during the reign of Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, in Judah, but his message largely concerned Israel. He is called the prophet of the poor. He proclaimed impending doom upon the workers of unrighteousness and heralded the coming of the Messiah.

1. Evil Workers Denounced (2:1-13)
1. How they worked (2:1, 2).
 Their evil work was not a matter of impulse, but of deliberate purpose.
 (3) It was conceived in their mind.
 They gave themselves to the devising of wicked schemes.
- (2) They worked evil upon their beds. They used the quiet hours of the night while honest people were sleeping for planning ways to work out their schemes.
- (3) They executed their plans in the morning light. Having power to carry out their schemes, they did what wicked minds devised.

2. What they do (v. 2).

(1) In this they violated the tenth commandment.

(2) They violently take fields and houses.

A covetous spirit will evacuate in such deeds unless restrained.

(3) They oppress a man and his house (v. 2).

By house is meant a man's descendants, the inheritors of his property.

3 Their punishment (v. 3).

Against such evil deeds God is devising a righteous retribution which will fall upon them with such weight as to humble them.

11. Upon Whom Judgment Shall Fall (3:1-12).

1. The unfaithful rulers (vv. 1-4).
Because of love for the evil and hatred for the good the rulers needlessly destroyed the people.

2. The false prophets (vv. 5-8).
They served for hire. As long as supplied with food, they prophesied to please the people.

3. The judgment which is to fall (vv. 9-12).
Jerusalem was destroyed because of the sins of the people. Just as the people were destroyed, so that we can be assured that there will be no e escape from the consequences of those who destroy the people.

111. God's Controversy (vv. 1-13)
Wicked men may go on to a certain time with their schemes, but eventually the Lord's requirements shall be met.

1. The hills and the mountains called to bear witness against Israel (v. 2). The people had turned a deaf ear to God so that inanimate creation was called upon to witness against them.
2. The guilty party left to state the case (v. 3).

The King of the universe advocates His rights and allows His sinning people to make charges against Him.

3. God responds with His meritorious acts to the people (vv. 4, 5).

Having paused for the charge and none having been brought, the Lord thrust home upon their conscience the memory of His great mercies.

- (1) He brought them out of Egyptian bondage (v. 4).

He has done even more for a while under bondage to sin and Satan.

- (2) Sent before them a trial of officers (v. 4).

Moses, the lawgiver; Aaron, the high priest, and Miriam, the prophetess, were sent to bear witness.

(3) Turned Balak's curse into a blessing through Balak's sin (v. 5).
4. God's requirements (vv. 6-13).
(1) The great question, "Who would shall I come before the Lord?" The Jews could not deny the charges brought against them by the Amalekites.
(2) The complete answer (v. 8) is, "A. To do justly." Strict equity was to characterize all their dealings with their fellowmen.
b. "To love mercy." The heart was to be diligently set to do good in all fellows.
c. "To walk humbly with the Lord." This means to recognize that we are sinners before God, with no claim upon Him except His pardoning love.

Spiritual Power

Spiritual power is developed in us, just as our sinatures are developed. The more we try to help others, the more firmly shall we be established and the more we shall grow.—D. I. Marvin.

o To Regenerate the World

The only way to regenerate the world is to do the duty which lies nearest to us and not to hunt after grand, far-fetched ones for ourselves.—Charles Kingsley.

Idleness is a bad thing for the individual. It is equally as disastrous to the city. About the best way to keep the community from idleness is to keep it working. We do not refer to the daily task that is for every man and woman but to work for the community. Projects of kind and another kind for various purposes have a merit apart from the duty served. He, indeed would be friend of a community that provided the best for all its civic and economic needs. One must work to grow, so, too, must a community. There is perhaps a thing "to slide" there is one result. It is the same with the community. There is just one way in which one slides without power and that down hill.

The Daughters of Union Veterans will hold a fall sale in Gannon & Martin's store, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 19, at 2 o'clock. The next tent meeting will be held Monday evening, Nov. 21. There will be a nomination of officers. Mystery packages will be sold.

Another veteran has left us, Comrade Charles Dunham, who died October 21, aged 86 years, 6 months, and a soldier's widow, Mrs. Olive Kimball, who died Nov. 11th.

The big willow tree on the lawn in front of the large three-story building on High Street has been cut down, condemned by the owner, L. C. Bates, because of its multitudes of fine rootlets that were their way into the sewer pipe which ran along nearby its base and clogged the passage-way, causing frequent digging up to clear it out. The tree had been six feet in diameter. About a foot or more above the ground the tree divided into four distinct trunks, three of which were 30 inches in diameter and the fourth about half as large and they all rose skyward to the height of 65 feet or more. It was a beautiful shade tree and many there are who mourn the "fall thereof." Mrs. Hattie Moore, who is her young married life it is said, planted the young willow tree there by the little brook. Years afterward her husband died. A little later she decided to replace the old small house with a new one and had the present large modern house built, a part of which she occupied and rented the rest. She named her new residence "The Willows." Before she died, she sold to Henry Heikinen, who in turn sold to L. C. Bates and Mrs. Anna Perkins rented the whole for a sanitarium. At this time it lost its name and was called "The Willows." Now it is occupied as rents and the willows also are no more.

At the regular Grange meeting last Saturday the program was enjoyed. Many good things were said in favor of the "Community in which I live," by the present. "A surprise feature" put on by Mrs. Ada Barden and Mrs. Ida Mountfort, entitled "An Automobile Race" and the "Whippet vs. Ford" caused a good deal of merriment as well as treat to all. The Whippet won. The next meeting will be a Thanksgiving program. A party of relatives were entertained Saturday, Nov. 12th, by C. D. Ryerson, in honor of the thirty-sixth wedding anniversary of his sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hollis. The day was spent at Mr. Hollis' birthday. A fine chicken pie dinner was served and a delicious wedding cake, shaped like a dome, and prettily decorated, was presented to the guests of honor. Those "sent" were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hollis, Carl Hollis, Elizabeth Hollis of West Paris, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chute, Ruth Chute of Auburn, and C. D. Ryerson, West Paris, telephone operator. On returning to their home later in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis found an electric heater installed in their bath room as a gift from Mr. Ryerson. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

A very interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association was held at the High School room Monday evening, Nov. 14. After the business meeting, there was a good old time sing by all, assisted by Ralph Doughty, violin; Mary Patrick, piano. There was a good attendance and a fine program. Reading demonstration, "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere" by Members of Grade VIII. Songs by Members of Grades VII, VII, and VIII. Papers were read by members of the Junior Class to show how necessary is the study of Latin and how Latin is the foundation of most of the other languages. They also showed charts to prove their statements. Paper on French Words and Customs. "Hill Song" in French. Marion. Ruby Lane, Marion Hill, Anna Koronen, accompanied by Mary Patrick, violin. Paper on Latin. Eugene Penley. Paper on Latin. Eugene Penley. Piano Trio. Ellen Stearns, Junior Curtis, Frederick Briggs. Recitation on Latin, "Dickie's Dream" by the Junior Class. The Moral of the play was very pretty and well presented. The moral of the play afforded much food for thought and deserves repetition. Mrs. Lyndell Farr presided at the piano, Mrs. Jennie Bates sang a solo and led the singing of community songs. The play was written by Annabel Snow, entitled "The Oaken Door." Cast as follows:

Mrs. Olive Kimball passed away at her home Sunday evening, Nov. 11, after a short illness of three weeks from which she was gaining when the end came suddenly from heart failure. She was born in Union June 21, 1859, daughter of Benjamin R. and Mary Townsend Richardson. She married Charles H. Kimball, Nov. 24, 1870, and they lived in Hurner until about 45 years ago when they moved to Paris where she has since lived. Mr. Kimball died 23 years ago last April. Four children were born to them, Oscar A. who died 17 years ago; Fred C. North Paris, Lila A., wife of Edwin Jackson of Mechanic Falls, Freda, who died when 4 years old. When her son Oscar's wife died leaving six children she took the baby O. Gerald Kimball, then about a year old, and has always cared for him, while he has done all a son could do for her, during the last years of her life when her health has been failing. Mrs. Kimball leaves to mourn their loss, besides her son and daughter, two brothers, John Richardson of Lacombe, N. H., Frank Richardson of Mechanic Falls and over sister, Mrs. Bennett, of Norway, nine grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, besides a host of friends. She was a member of the North Paris church. The funeral was held at her home Monday afternoon at 2:00 P. M. Rev. E. H. Stover officiated, the bearers were W. H. Childs Sanford, E. Coffin, Caleb L. Morrill and S. I. Freeland. The interment was in West Paris cemetery. There were many beautiful flowers.

FIRST WOMAN TO RIDE IN AUTO IN MAINE, DEAD

Our Correspondent is authorized to take subscriptions. "Buy or Borrow a Copy."

Mrs. Augusta M. Stanley, who died November 11 at her home, 688 Center St., Newton, Mass., was the widow of Francis Edgar Stanley, who went from Dixfield and made the Stanley photographic dry plate business in Boston, sold that out to a concern that effected a merger, and afterward manufactured the Stanley steam automobile. She was the first woman to ride in an automobile in Maine, doing so in a trip that took her husband and herself, about thirty-five years ago, to Portland, Lewiston, Dixfield, Rumford, and Andover. She was a native of East New Portland, taught school before her marriage, and after moving to Mechanic Falls, became one of the prominent women's club workers in that state. She was the author of several books of genealogical research, and one of rec
